

OINKS RESTAURANT

The Oxenham Arms launched “Oinks Restaurant”!

We prefer passion to pretension and our chefs are dedicated to producing wonderful food, beautifully cooked and stylishly presented. The menu is designed around the finest seasonal produce available. Whenever possible we source our meat, vegetables and fruit from our own farm; our fish and seafood direct from the Devon coast; and our game from local shoots.

The Restaurant is open from 6.00pm to 9.30pm.

3 course dinner for £35.00 per person

Christmas 2011 at The Oxenham Arms

oxenham
arms

In previous years guests have been fortunate to enjoy a truly magical Christmas with snow so deep you couldn't leave the village.

We can't guarantee snow but we can assure you of a fabulous festive break here at the Oxenham Arms. Log fires, mulled wine and cut fir fills the inn with a distinctive aroma.

Arrive on Christmas Eve to settle into your room and unwind. Why not book yourself some seasonal pampering in The Green Room, our beauty treatment and relaxation room?

Enjoy mince pies and coffee or mulled wine in front of one of the log fires.

Dinner is served from 7pm in Oinks, our restaurant, a four course menu featuring wonderful seasonal fayre from the local area.

Retire to the bar to enjoy the atmosphere of anticipation only experienced on the eve before Christmas.

Midnight Mass is available at St Andrews Church, a short walk away.

Wake up on Christmas Day ready to fully relax; the only decisions are to possibly meander up to the lovely Norman church in the village or perhaps take a short stroll after lunch.

The bar is a must on Christmas Day. We open until 2.30pm for the village to come and exchange best wishes of the season to their neighbours; what a great atmosphere!

Now settle down to a traditional Christmas Lunch with all the trimmings. The rest of the afternoon maybe walk off the excesses of lunch or just settle in front of the log fire with a good book.

A Buffet supper is served in the morning room at 8.00pm

Boxing Day holds a whole new challenge. Start the day with a hearty breakfast because today we are leaving the serenity of the Ox to experience a little of what the moor has to offer. At 10am we leave the Ox with our guide for the day, heading for Chagford, a charming tannery town nestling on the edge of the moor. Today the Mid - Devon hunt meet in the square. This is a great spectacle and we need to get there early as it is a very popular event.

For those who would like to enjoy the countryside we are going to walk onto the Moor back to the Ox, some 6 miles. Our guide will point out some of the many unique features of the moor landscape and we should be able to persuade him to take us via The Northmoor, a wonderful old coaching inn for a little Christmas cheer.

We will lunch on the hoof with hot soup and sausages to sustain us.

On our return you can relax once again content that the excesses of Christmas Day have been suitably balanced with your day of adventure.

Coffee or Tea and hot crumpets will be served in the lounge to sustain you through to dinner later in the restaurant. The 27th marks your departure but not before enjoying another hearty breakfast.

To fully enjoy our trip out on Boxing Day please have available waterproof and warm outdoor clothing and sturdy footwear. A hat is always a good idea. It often rains here but it won't spoil our fun. We can dry your kit on our return to the hotel.

2011 New Years Eve Celebrations at The Oxenham Arms

Come and celebrate Hogmanay in style here at the Oxenham Arms. Log fires, granite mullioned windows, oak beams and four poster beds are all in plentiful supply.

Arrive on December 31st to settle into your room and unwind. Why not get ready for the evening's festivities and book yourself some pampering in The Green Room, our beauty treatment and relaxation room?

Enjoy a glass of champagne cocktail followed by a leisurely six course menu in Oinks, our restaurant, featuring wonderful seasonal fare from the local area.

Wake on January 1st and start 2012 as you mean to go on with a delicious hearty breakfast before departing the Ox to make your way home.
